The Royal Arsenal, Woolwich, and Firepower – the Museum of the Royal Artillery.

on Thursday, 26th May 2016

This visit has been organised by MC Black.

Description:

Firepower, the Museum of the Royal Artillery, will be closing in early July 2016, and moving to Larkhill so this may be your last chance to visit.

Members will learn something of the intriguing history of Artillery, the Science of Artillery and the human endeavours of Gunners from the Battle of Crécy to unmanned drones and modern peacekeeping missions.

Firepower's website: <http://firepower.org.uk>

In the morning, we will have a guided tour of the historic Royal Arsenal site (much of which has been converted to housing) covering the main buildings that still exist and including the origins of the site and the main growing periods. There is also reference to the origins of the Royal Artillery and Arsenal Football Club which both began at the site.

Wikipedia has information about the Arsenal Site: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Royal\_Arsenal; the Royal Arsenal Association site is here: <http://royalarsenalwoolwich.org.uk/>

After lunch, Mark Smith (You may have seen him as the Militaria expert on Antiques Roadshow), the Curator will give us a Guided Tour of the Museum.

Coincidentally, our visit falls on the Royal Artillery's Tercentenary.

Where and when to meet:

Meet in the Museum Café at 10:30 for 11:00; tea/coffee and Toilets.

Getting there:

Firepower, the Royal Artillery Museum is located in the historic Royal Arsenal, Woolwich, South East London SE18 6ST and a short riverside walk from the Woolwich Ferry.
