

Visit to Lord's Cricket Ground and Canal Boat Trip on Thursday 7th April 2011

This visit has been organised by Tony Manning.

Lord's has long been seen as the 'Home of Cricket' and the game's spiritual 'headquarters'. But its importance is not merely historical. In practice it remains, to this day, perhaps the most important single place in world cricket.

Its owner, Marylebone Cricket Club, remains the guardian of both the Laws and the Spirit of Cricket, and MCC sides (which play around 500 games a year) perform a key role in promoting cricket - in Britain and elsewhere.

Lasting approximately 1 hour 40 minutes the tour starts in the Museum, home of the famous ashes urn. Other attractions include the Wisden Urn, bats, balls and kit donated by famous players, and paintings and photographs covering 400 years of cricket history. You will walk through the famous Long Room, the players' dressing rooms, the Real Tennis court and the MCC Indoor Cricket School. You will also see the outstanding architecture of both the original pavilion and the modern stands and media facilities.

Before leaving there will be a short time to visit the Lord's Shop for some "grandson delights".

For those coming on the afternoon Waterbus Trip we will depart for Little Venice (indicated by yellow arrow on map below, bottom left corner), about 10 minutes' walk away. Lunch is planned for when we arrive at Camden Lock, but there will be a brief opportunity for some refreshment at the floating cafe at Little Venice.

The Regents Canal runs from the Limehouse Basin in East London's Docklands to Little Venice in North-West London's Maida Vale. It provides a tranquil corridor through the busy city and provides much-needed breathing space for Londoners.

From the Little Venice boarding point we will take the Waterbus trip to Camden Lock. This involves a passage through the tunnel followed by sailing through the zoo, all in a former working narrowboat. We then arrive at Camden Lock at around 2pm.

There is a Wetherspoons, the Ice Wharf, right where we dis-embark, for a sociable lunch. There are other eating options all around this tourist honeypot site for those who prefer to do their own thing.

Where and when to meet

Meet at the Lord's main entrance at 10.30. The entrance is at the western end of the Lord's complex on St John's Wood Road.

Getting there:

Lord's is located in St John's Wood - part of the London borough of Westminster. Out of respect for its neighbours, and the environment, MCC encourages visitors to take public transport to and from Lord's whenever they can. The Ground has good public transport links. The nearest tube stations are Warwick Avenue (Bakerloo Line) and St John's Wood (Jubilee Line).

Lord's is reasonably close to two mainline rail stations, Marylebone and Paddington.

Lord's is well-served by buses as well. Several bus routes run alongside the Ground, while others are within easy reach. Don't forget to obtain a travel card for travel to Lord's, and return from Camden Lock.

Lunch arrangements:

There is a Wetherspoons, the Ice Wharf, right where we dis-embark, for a sociable lunch. There are other eating options all around this tourist honeypot site for those who prefer to do their own thing.
